IN CASE YOU MISSED IT

Hi everyone,

The AAW symposium has a collaborative project, meaning that at least 7 people helped. I'd like to go big and have everyone participate. The current plan will be presented at the meetings, but it involves leveraging lots of smaller turned items to give a larger impression. To start visualizing what that might look like I'd like everyone coming to the next meeting to bring 3-5 items that are 3 inches or less in their largest dimension, assuming you have them? The club now has blanks for this purpose.

Thanx in advance,
Isaac

Members:

Attached is a memo from AAW with links w/r/t the insurance which the club has voted to purchase. I will try to answer any questions which you may have. The enclosed Fact Sheet and the one-page matrix answer the prevailing questions raised by chapters over the past year about the AAW chapter insurance programs

On behalf of John Flynn.

At the March meeting I will be taking orders for ART T-shirts.

The shirts cost $8.99 @ and I charge $10.00 each with a dollar of that going to club.

Note that XXL are $12.00 and XXXL are $13.00.

I will take orders and payment at the March meeting and delivery should be at the May meeting. Please plan on paying with your order.

There is a 24 minimum order so if I don't get 24 then I will return the money.

Thanks
John

THANK YOU TO ALL WHO PARTICIPATED

It may have been a small turn out but it was a quality one. With an impromptu first aid demo by yours truly on how "Not to" unpack a skew chisel. A wonderful demo on making a spoon & using a jam chuck by Mike S.

There was a club meeting at which a club insurance update was voted on, details from Gordon below. To All who freely imparted their knowledge, wisdom time, and donations it is very much appreciated. With the event culminating in a mighty, bitterly fought albeit silent auction most attendees went home happy. Thank you
